

CREATIVE COACHING

Celebrate. Cultivate. Transform.

More personal than an MFA and more strategic than therapy, coaching combines creative growth, business planning, and personal development in a unique and beautiful way.

THERE'S MAGIC IN BEING SEEN.

Are you ready to find ease, joy, and confidence in the creative process?

THE COACHING PROCESS

Share Your Vision

You'll give me an overview of your work, what you're proud of, and where you're struggling, and we'll decide what to focus on during our time together. You're welcome to email me to book a discovery call!

Discover Your Creative Identity

We'll review your project history, creative strengths, areas of interest, and the patterns and themes that keep emerging in your work, so you can do the work you're meant to do.

Elevate Your Craft

We can discuss plot, theme, character development, or any other elements you struggle with or want to experiment with.

Develop Your Process

We'll explore how you work best, strategize about sharing your work, and how to care for your creativity. At the end, we'll set new goals and intentions and develop the accountability you need to move forward with confidence and clarity.
